Hi Mark,

No I'm afraid not - your internet service provider might be able to provide some further guidance though, especially if they manage your firewall etc.?

The Online Safer Internet Centre might be able to help or anyone that you use externally to provide online safety training for staff and pupils:

<https://saferinternet.org.uk/>

And the National Cyber Security Centre:

<https://www.ncsc.gov.uk/>

There is also the Key, NSPCC, ThinkUKnow, Childnet International and Childline.

Plus if you use an external IT provider, particularly someone like LGFL, they would be able to help?

Many thanks,

Tammy

Hi Tammy,

Does the DPE have an online Safety Policy template at all? I've checked on the knowledge bank and can't seem to find one. Just want to make sure we have one to cover us. We have Data protection and Data privacy, but these don't really go into the online safety element for primary schools.

Kind regards

Mark
