Hi Tracey,

Just to let you know I have uploaded the file now and understand what the problems are (so helpful for me too!).

The first issue is that you need to keep the header line in the .csv file so I just added that line at the top.

The second one is that the Knowledgebank can't deal with apostrophes in emails - I must admit that I have never seen email addresses like that before. This now means that everyone apart from Georgina Dell'Anna and Hannah O'Brien should have received their logins. We would please ask that for these two whether it is possible for you to ask your IT department to create an email alias for each of them that does not contain the apostrophe i.e. hannahobrien@hillpark.brighton-hove.sch.uk which they could then use to login to the Knowledgebank? If you can find out and then let me know when that is done and we can finish setting those two up.

Many thanks,

Tammy Buchanan
