Hi Lora and Shelby,

Thanks for your time earlier. As mentioned I did double check with our lawyer about the photos of staff on the wall in public areas - although it sounds like there is good reason to have them on the wall and should not be a problem, she agreed with me that there either should either be something in the contract regarding consent for this or something in the staff handbook whereby staff could object if they were not happy for their photo to be on the wall.

I hope that helps,

Many thanks,
