Hi Simon and Jo,

I hope you are well. Following on from James' email this week I wanted to follow up and try to book an introductory half an hour online meeting with you. It would be a meeting whereby we could both introduce each other, I could learn more about where you are with your data protection and we could work on a plan for the year ahead.

I am very aware that it is a very busy time of year for schools so would welcome you sending me dates and times that would be convenient for you. I am currently booking from the week of the 3rd October. My contact details are below, or you can reply to this email or add a ticket on the Knowledgebank - I look forward to hearing from you.

Have a lovely weekend,

Many thanks,

Dear Simon, Jo

Welcome back - I hope that you've had an enjoyable summer.

I'm writing to let you know that we've appointed a new school consultant, Tammy Buchanan to cover the South East and she will looking after you from this point, whilst I spend more time on core-DPO functions and general business operations.

Tammy brings years of experience managing information technology for primary schools and a multi-academy trust and is a huge asset to Data Protection Education. She is cc'd in this email and will be in touch to arrange our programme for the year ahead shortly. If we have an existing appointment booked for this term, that appointment will still be valid.

If you have any questions, please do contact me or email at the usual address: dpo@dataprotection.education

Kind regards,

James
