Hi Caroline,

Thank you for your email. I am not looking to book a demonstration with you. I am trying to book a meeting with whoever the lead person for GDPR/data protection is in the school. We would do a check on where you are with your training and policies etc. It is part of your SLA with us. For example, I can see that your data privacy notice on your website is four years old and lists someone else as your Data Protection Officer when it should be naming Data Protection Education as the DPO, the meeting would highlight areas of data protection that need to be addressed in order to mitigate risk for your school. Is there someone in the Trust that you would rather I speak to you that you could refer me to please?

Many thanks,
Tammy

Hi Tammy

As I have already done a session where I've been shown around the online system I didn't think I would need to do it again?

Hello Caroline,

Thank you for your email. There are 54 different times across 19 days between now and Christmas that are available, is she able to please look again at the link? Beyond that it extends for 12 months when there are a few dates booked in January. I'm afraid there are no more to release - when the times are not available it means I am talking to other schools, I do not have the option to keep any for later release I'm afraid. However, the calendar does change constantly as meetings are moved or cancelled so if she could look again please?

Although looking on the Knowledgebank, I can see that you are the named administrator, so perhaps it might be more applicable to meet with yourself?

I look forward to meeting one of you.

Many thanks,
Tammy
