Hi Caroline,

OK thanks that's interesting and thanks for letting me know. This is normally one of the main reasons schools become a multi-academy trust to get economies of scale when purchasing products and services and can save a lot of money, especially with licensing, the point that savings normally start is with three schools. I will bear it in mind if the others send me their supplier information, so perhaps something for the future. I will add Stone King, but as I mentioned previously we won't have done all the due diligence on every supplier, so Poverest/AFACT would need to follow up on their specific contracts with those.

From what you send me below I would recommend that Poverest follow up with ReadTheory, Stone King and the therapists for their data sharing agreement and information about where their data is stored. On the Knowledgebank there is a section in the best practice area with a form that you can send them, if you haven't done so already:

<https://dataprotection.education/best-practice-library/best-practice/due-diligence-best-practice-area>

Any concerns, or if you need us to check what is sent back then please either email dpo@dataprotection.education or raise a ticket on the Knowledgebank to get further advice on the due diligence as our legal team will take a look for you and be able to advise.

I hope that helps,

Many thanks,
Tammy

I don't have any idea what companies the other AFACT schools use.

We run separately and the only thing I am aware of that we use as a group (however with 3 separate contracts) is the catering company.

Thinking about it, we use one solicitor to deal with anything that is AFACT group related and that is Stone King.

Hi Caroline,

Thanks for sending this through. I have been working on incorporating those details in with the due diligence we are currently undertaking. Please see the status below for each (in blue). I would be good to understand which ones of these are used by the whole of AFACT so that the due diligence is only done once. I have put the below under Poverest for the moment, but would be very easy to change to AFACT if required. When I spoke to Patrick he did seem to think it would happen this way for AFACT? Is that something that you would be able to coordinate?

Please see the further information below in blue but now if you go into the Knowledgebank and choose Third party Suppliers and choose Poverest you should see the list of the ones I have added from the generic list. You should be able to go in and make the relevant changes for Poverest. You should be able to do the same under Software.

Many thanks,
Tammy

One of the things I was asked to do was to provide you with a list of the companies that we share information with.

Paul, our DHT, has informed me of such. They are:

- * Wonde - (PurpleMash (2Simple) - Added third party supplier with you as contract holder, also added software
- * EdShed - Added third party supplier with you as contract holder, not added software because there are various packages but are easy for you to add by selecting the generic ones and then copy those to Poverest
- * FFT Education Added third party supplier with you as contract holder, also added software
- * Insight Tracking - is this by Equin Limited?
- * Renaissance Place - Can you confirm which company this is as there are several?
- * Safeguard - Can you confirm which company this is as there are several?
- * TT Rock Stars third party supplier is Maths Circle, have added with you as a contract holder. Added TT Rockstars software
- * Maths.co.uk - have added the third party supplier (Orchard Digital) and the product Maths.co.uk
- * Readtheory - if I have the right company this looks to be an American company not registered with the ICO - are you able to send me some more information please?
- * Hamilton Trust - added under third party contracts

Also, we use:

- * Scholarpack (for our student and personnel information) Added third party supplier with you as contract holder, also added software
- * Chartwells (for our catering which may change in March)
- * FMS - Supplier is Education Software Solutions so have added with you as contract holder, also added FMS under Software

Regarding the below, you would need to do the due diligence on them if you share staff or student data with them - I would definitely recommend doing it for any of the therapists that you use as therapists have access to special category and highly confidential information.

I'm not sure if you need:

- * Lodestar (bought in service, our cleaning company - we don't consciously share information with them but they do work onsite)
- * Bromley Youth Music Trust (the same, bought in service, they come and do music lessons onsite. Parents can also book their children in for private music lessons that are provided onsite)
- * Teachsport Bromley (the same, bought in service, they come and do lunchtime lessons sometimes)
- * Words First (Speech and Language therapists, bought in service)
- * Rachael Henderson (Play Therapist, bought in service)
- * We have someone comes in to do Peer Mediation.
- * Spinnaker (a company that comes in and does some assemblies)
- * Occupational Therapists

Do we need to do anything with people that only come in for a term to do things like work with the children on arts projects?

We also have a company come in to do before and after school clubs (and sometimes a lunch time club) as a 'Letting'.

Please can you let me know what I need to do with this?

Thanks.
