Hi both,

Thanks for your time today. It was good to meet you both. Please find below the items we discussed and any information and actions:

- Staff on the Knowledgebank - we would advise ensuring that the staff list on the Knowledgebank has all the current members of staff at Downs Junior School
- How to add/remove staff DPE Dashboard -> Users -> Add staff, either manually or bulk import. The bulk import option will allow the download of a template file which can be populated and uploaded. It is recommended that staff are advised beforehand that they will receive an email with login details as it may go into junk/spam. Kalina at DPE (client support) is here to help you and can be contacted for support at: kalina.voyvodova@dataprotection.education. For new staff if not already, consider including DPE's e-learning GDPR training as part of the induction process.
- Training Courses - the ICO recommends that data protection training is completed by staff every two years. For those members of staff that have completed training previously I would suggest they do the GDPR refresh course, but for anyone that hasn't done any training they should really be doing the Introduction to Data Protection one. This link will explain how to assign courses to staff: <https://dataprotection.education/news-top/news/165-using-the-knowledge-bank/291-assigning-users-to-courses>
- Data Breaches - we would advise that staff are able to recognise a data breach and know what to do if they discover one. There is a short (5-10 mins) learning nugget on this: <https://dataprotection.education/courses-heading/data-breaches-2>
- NCSC - we advise that some insurances require staff to have undertaken the NCSC training. I advised that there are also some questions for Governors from the NCSC: <https://www.ncsc.gov.uk/information/school-governor-questions>
- Policies - we discussed website policies and noted that you have two for GDPR/Data Protection that look identical. I checked with a colleague who agreed that you really only need one of them and we would recommend keeping one called the Data Protection Policy that references the UK GDPR. I would recommend checking on our templates or those of Brighton & Hove when you next come to review the policy. Although the documents below are not all statutory to have on your website, for transparency and ease of managing these documents, it is good practice to have a data protection section on your website and consider including the following documents:

Website documents:

- GDPR/data protection policy
- Privacy notice(s)
- SAR and data breach procedure
- FOI and publication scheme
- Supplier/third party list

Other useful documents to review and check that you have are:

- Work away from school policy
- Information Security/Passwords
- Review of consent documentation. Consent guidance and consent withdrawal can also be added to the GDPR section of the school website
- Privacy Notices - you sent me a separate email about privacy notices. I checked and they are under GDPR on the website but are very out of date - one of them says that it will be reviewed in May 2020. I would advise reviewing them (I put the link above for where our templates can be found). There are some pieces of information that I couldn't find in either the policies or the privacy notices:

1. As Data Protection Education is your DPO you do need to have our contact details available somewhere. I would recommend putting these details in this policy and any privacy notices. All data subjects, including staff, parents and governors have the right to contact us and so the information should be readily available:

Data Protection Officer: Data Protection Education Ltd.
Telephone: 0800 0862018

Email: dpo@dataprotection.education

2. You should consider listing what third-party suppliers you share pupil and staff data with - there is a template for this in the template privacy notice, but we can discuss this further next time.
 3. Please check whether you have a Workforce privacy notice available for staff as well.
- Alice - As Alice is going to support you I have changed her from staff to admin on the Knowledgebank and emailed Kalina in our customer support to arrange a demo.

I will shortly send through the invite for the next meeting, but in the meantime if you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact me, raise a ticket on the Knowledgebank or email dpo@dataprotection.education.

Many thanks,
