Hi Liz,

Thank you for your email. Yes a number of Brighton schools are in this situation at the moment. The best thing to do is the check on the iRMS toolkit for specific retention periods for the different kinds of records as they are different periods for each and also depends if a record is electronic or paper. Here is the link:

It is a good opportunity to data cleanse by only carrying over to the new system what is needed. The guidelines will also specify which ones you need to archive.

I'm surprised that Orbis hasn't given you any guidance on this, so I will drop them an email to see what they say.

Remember that you will also need to update your privacy notices as this is a big change. This record of processing which looks as the risks/data subjects etc when migrating MIS may also help:

I hope that helps,

Many thanks,
Tammy

Tammy,

We are migrating onto from SIMS to Arbor MIS system. We go live on 30th October - straight after half term!

Part of the process is cleaning up our data on SIMS, before it is transferred over. I wonder if you could give me some advice on data retention for pupils and staff on SIMS? When pupils finish Year 6, we send their paper records to their new secondary school, but their data stays on SIMS. Similarly with staff, I don't think I have ever removed 'old' staff from SIMS, although they are archived as 'leavers'.

Thanks in advance for your help!

Liz
